Form. Function. Fashion. A perfect leather jacket is a wardrobe staple—and essential for fall weather. Fitted styles look amazing with jeans and boots, and just as amazing with a sexy cocktail dress. It's an unexpected wrap, but it can immediately elevate your style quotient. Since a quality leather garment can be costly, choose a jacket with great fit and fabulous details that will have you coveting your purchase for years to come. And remember, the more you wear your jacket, the better it will look.

Classic motorcycle styling is evident, but not overpowering.

Hardware in bronze doesn't compete with your jewelry.

Trim fit is more flattering than an oversized jacket.

The combination of black leather and suede adds interest and looks more expensive.

Interesting details like open seams at cuffs and waistband are cool and explain why you pay more.

Cuffs zip and snap—fold back once and push up sleeves when wearing with a dress. Makes the look more feminine.
